Dr. Benjamin F. Knight, Jr., oral surgeon from Lynchburg, and his dental assistant, Miss Cynthia Coker, prepare patient for a biopsy on Sunday afternoon when the first oral Cancer Detection Clinic was held in Appomattox at the offices of Dr. S. R. Lawson and Dr. John Feddison.

Cancer Detection Clinic Big Success In Appomattox

Central Virginia "Opened Wide" on Sunday, February 11th, when the Lynchburg, Appomattox and Campbell County areas conducted their first mouth cancer clinic.

The clinic was held in six locations and sponsored by the Lynchburg Dental Society; the Dental Assistants; the Lynchburg, Appomattox and Campbell County Units of the American Cancer Society; the local health departments; the Medical College of Virginia, School of Dentistry and the Division of Dental Health of the State Department of Health.

Four dentists and one oral surgeon participated in the Appomattox clinic which was held in the offices of Dr. S. R. Lawson and Dr. John Feddison.

Participating other than Dr. Lawson and Dr. Feddison were Dr. Benjamin F. Knight, Jr., oral surgeon from Lynchburg; Dr. David T. Kiger and Dr. William A. Coleman, both of Lynchburg.

Dental Assistants participating were Miss Cynthia Coker and Mrs. Karen Palmer of Lynchburg; Miss Vicky Pearson, Mrs. Mary Frances Moore and Mrs. Dorothy W. Davidson, all of Appomattox.

One hundred and ninety persons were examined and fifteen were refered to Dr. Knight, the oral surgeon, for further consultation. Seven tissue studies were made and their results will be known on Friday, Feb. 15th.

A biopsy or tissue study is a test to determine disease and is an effort to rule out the danger of a malignancy.

Oral or mouth cancer, although not significant in total numbers of cancers, is one of the most dangerous of all cancers when it has spread. The practice of good oral hygience and routine visits to your dentist are perhaps the

REPORTS ON PLANNING COMMISSION

Bill Slagle, Town Manager and member of the Transportation Technical Committee of the Central Virginia Planning District Commission has reported that they want to take a look at any transportation problems in the entire district, both present and future, covering existing modes of transportation from bicycling to mass transportation as well as more innovative types of transportation.

Information will be submitted to the Urban Mass Transportation Administration by early March of 1973.

Lincoln Visits ACHS

On Monday, February 12, 1973, Abraham Lincoln, on his 164th birthday, ascended from his grave and made a surprise visit to the Appomattox County High School History classes for a "Meet The Press" type question answer program which was done in the first person.

"Abe" Lincoln told us, when he paused for the picture shown above, that he decided to celebrate his birthday and that he had always wanted to visit the "surrender grounds" in Appomattox so he decided to combine a visit to the Appomattox Historical National Park with a tour of the History classes at ACHS.

"Abe" answered questions ranging from how he got the name "Honest Abe" to did he have any living relatives in politics today; when did he get married; what effect did his assassination have on the South and many other quest-

ATTENDED FARM BUREAU CONVENTION

Earl T. Pickett, President of the Appomattox County Farm Bureau; Dwight Atkins, Field Representative for this District; and Herbert Goodman, Insurance advisor, attended the President's Advisors Convention for Farm Bureau at the Hotel Roanoke, Roanoke, Virginia, on February 7th and 8th.

As far as Appomattox County is concerned membership wise - Farm Bureau is 95% of its membership quota for the year.

Board Hears Report On Building Program

The Appomattox County School Board held its regular monthly meeting at 3:00 p.m. on Friday, February 9, 1973 at the School Board office with Dr. A. A. Fratrick, Chairman of the Board, presiding. All board members were present for the meeting.

Eugene Peyton, Superintendent of Schools, reported that NDEA (National Defense Education Act) funding totaling $1015.00 for Elementary History classes in the county has been approved. This assistance will be used to purchase television sets, casettes and film strips.

Peyton also reported that Nonfood Assistance applications for kitchen equipment needed for Pamplin Elementary School and Appomattox Intermediate School has been ordered and that the board will pay only 25% of the cost of this equipment with the Federal Government providing 75% of the cost. The total amount of the equipment ordered is set at $4918.50. The total cost to the school board will be one-fourth of this amount.

In other business, the board discussed the advantage of taking out School Board Liability Insurance, a policy that would protect board members in the event of any civil suits that might arise. The board agreed that subject to the approval of legal council they would secure this insurance.

Mr. Garland Gay, Lynchburg architect, met with the School Board to discuss the building program on the new high school now under construction.

Gay reported that the contractors are on schedule if not possibly a bit ahead of schedule. He stated that the building program is 18% to 20% complete at this time. The gym is already under brick and brick-work on the academic building is being done now. The new gym will have a blue-grey color scheme and will have an official seating capacity of 1178.

He brought a master color chart and materials board for the board members to examine.

According to Peyton, Superintendent of county schools, they are exploring the possibility of obtaining additional funds under the Developmental Disability Program of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to support Special Education in the county.

The board approved extra curricular activities which includes all school clubs and the athletic events for the year.

The board also approved the appointment of the committee to approve materials relating to venereal disease. According to Dr. Fratrick this is not only a local problem but is a nation-wide problem.

The following school trips had received the approval of the school board: FHLA trip to Amherst on January 25; Pep Club trip to Nelson County High School on January 26; First Grade at Appomattox Primary School trip on February 13 to the U.S. Post Office in Appomattox and to the County Court House; ACHS FHA trip on February 13 to Brookville; AIS Junior Chapter FHA trip to Brookville High School on February 17; ACHS Senior FFA trip to Skateland in Lynchburg on March 19; Appomattox Primary School first grade trip to sheriff's office and tour of jail on April 4;

Partipate In All Regional Band Concert

Four Appomattox County High School students participated in the All-Regional Concert Band at Clover Hill High School in Chesterfield County during the week-end of February 2-4. The week-end was sponsored by the Virginia Music Education Association and these students had been selected at Regional try-outs in January. They were: Debbie Rush, Terry Hamilton, Brian Selz and David Jones. The climax of the week-end was the presentation of a concert on Sunday afternoon to an over-capacity crowd at the high school auditorium. The guest conductor was Robert Jager, a professor of Music from Tennessee Tech.

District III, of which Appomattox County High School is included, consists of thirty Junior and Senior High Schools. There were one

County Will Purchase Four More Voting Machines

County Tags Go On Sale March 1

The Board of Supervisors of Appomattox County met in regular session on Friday morning, February 9, 1973, at 9:00 a.m. at the Clerk's office.

Murrell Ferguson, Chairman of the Electoral Board for Appomattox County, appeared before the board to present two recommendations.

He recommended that the County purchase four more automatic voting machines from the Automatic Voting Machine Company at an approximate cost of $1980.00 each and also recommended that all election day workers be paid $25.00 per day on election day rather than the $20.00 minimum required by state law.

For the first time automatic voting machines were used in Appomattox County, at the Court House Precinct, in the November General Election last year and the use of these machines proved to be very satisfactory.

Oakville Precinct and Clover Hill Precinct are very heavily populated areas and Ferguson requested that four of the automatic voting machines be purchased and two be placed at each of the above precincts.

The Board of Supervisors granted the requests.

In other business before the board, T. E. Pitman, Resident Engineer Virginia Department of Highways, was informed by the board that the Annual Road Hearing will be held on March 9, 1973 at the Court House at 9:00 a.m.

J. Franklin Vaughan, President of the Appomattox County Chamber of Commerce, reported to the board that 50,000 brochures for Appomattox County have been printed at an approximate cost of $1200.00 and the Chamber of Commerce is in need of financial assistance and asked that the Board of Supervisors help out with financial aid.

Vaughan reported that the Chamber of Commerce has approximately forty-five members, most of them being business memberships. The Chamber of Commerce is a member of the Virginia Travel Council and is a member of the State Chamber of Commerce.

The brochures are distri-

Attend NASSP Convention

Mr. H. Wayne Tucker, Principal at Appomattox County High School, and Mr. L. A. Beamon, Principal at Appomattox Intermediate School, attended the 57th annual convention of the National Association of Secondary School Principals in Dallas, Texas from February 2nd through February 7th. The theme for the program was "Update '73."

An integral part of NASSP's Annual Convention was the school visits and special events. Schools had been selected on the basis of sound educational programs and innovative practices that work. Scheduled were five general sessions, ten concurrent sessions and seven Sunday evening specials featuring nationally known authorities. There were nineteen junior high and middle school sessions examining more than 50 exemplary programs in schools across the nation, 36 school visits for on-site observation of working, innovative programs and numerous sessions on innovative high school programs. There were also 32 idea - sharing, small - group discussion meetings - all aimed

Peyton Announces Resignation As Supt. Of Schools

At a called meeting of the Appomattox County School Board on Tuesday afternoon members learned that Eugene Peyton, Superintendent of County Schools will not seek reappointment to the position when his term expires the last of June of 1973.

Peyton reported that his decision was based on a desire to be more directly involved with curriculum development.

The board voiced its appreciation to Mr. Peyton for his service in filling the unexpired term of the late Earl J. Smith, Jr.

The board, in its action, accepted the resignation of Peyton effective June 30, 1973 and appointed him to the position of Director of Instruction for the 1973-74 school session.

The appointment of a new superintendent must be made May 1, 1973, according to state law. The appointment will be for a four year period.

The School Board will be interviewing applicants who meet the qualifications of the State Department of Educa-

Visitors At AIS

The four administrators from the Newport News City Schools visited the Appomattox Intermediate School Thursday, February 8. They were interested in seeing the innovative approaches and techniques employed by the faculty in teaching and learning activities. Of particular significance was the manner and extent to which teachers have established behavorial and performance objectives, developed learning packages for learners, developed outstanding team teaching models and implemented a philosophy of individualized instruction.
